“Why do I work at Caterpillar?”

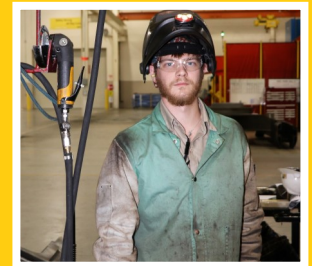

“I worked in the oil fields for seven years. There’s no more waiting on a phone call to work, watching the market to see what it’s going to do. This is good, stable work at Caterpillar - climate controlled, family oriented, team focused. It’s a gift.”

—Moses, Caterpillar Victoria employee since January 2018

“I welded in high school and a little bit around the house, but most of what I know now I learned here in training. The safety of our shop and the stability of the job appealed to me: the regular hours are nice. It’s a great group of people.”

—Alex, Caterpillar Victoria employee since October 2017

“I was a lab supervisor at a local plant and did custom metal art in my spare time. When the plant closed, I took the advanced welding course at Victoria College and ultimately decided to make a new career as a welder at Caterpillar.”

—Stan, Caterpillar Victoria employee since July 2017
