CSR Programs in India:

With the introduction of the Companies Act 2013 in India, Caterpillar India Pvt Ltd (CIPL) Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) took over various initiatives focusing on access to quality education, increase in access to clean water, sanitation and hygiene components, and the betterment of surrounding environment. As part of the larger campaign, CIPL CSR is currently engaged in reclaiming more than 50 acres of polluted lakes to contribute to a better environment. Through its Water Conservation program, CIPL CSR has been so far able to provide improved access to clean water to more than 4500 families.

Similarly, in alignment with the Government of India's "Skill India mission", CIPL CSR aims to reduce the immense skill gap through its skill development program implemented across India. One of the projects provides Heavy Earth Moving Machine Operator training to the underprivileged youth to improve their employability. So far, 539 operators have been trained including 7 women towards and put across to job sites. Another project offers an intensive three-year diploma certification program under the Government of India's National Employability Enhancement Mission (NEEM) which offers technical training to the students from financially weaker section.
