ETT DIESEL LUBE UNITS

ETT Diesel Lube Units are purpose-designed for on-site maintenance, servicing and fluid management across demanding mining and construction sites. Built for flexibility, they can be configured to suit specific customer, equipment and site requirements, supporting efficient logistics and reducing equipment downtime.

Key features include a modular design configured to site requirements, a diesel APU fully independent from the truck, unbeatable service access and ergonomics, and high-volume pump rates for fast service turnaround. ETT Diesel Lube Units provide a reliable mobile solution for keeping critical equipment serviced and operational wherever needed.

Articulated Truck Diesel Lube Units
ETT manufactures a complete line of diesel lube units for Cat articulated bare chassis.
