

POWER CROW™

MODEL NO. 330

It's not just the frequency (how fast a sound is going when it reaches a turkey) that makes turkeys gobble, but the decibels (how loud the sound is when it gets to the turkey). The super-loud, high-pitched Power Crow™ produces distress cries and all the high, raspy sounds of crows. The unique trough design allows the hunter to pinch the call with his teeth, increasing pressure on the reed and changing the pitch of the sound to match any sound made by crows.

INSTRUCTIONS

Crows have a wide range of calls. With the Power Crow™, it is not necessary to blow loudly to maintain sound quality. You control how loud you want to call by the amount of air you blow into the call. Pitch is determined by how hard you pinch the end of the call with your teeth. Soft or loud, tone is never compromised.

The Power Crow™ may be used to locate a turkey at any time of day, but it is most effective after turkeys are on the ground. Begin by placing the small end of the call between your teeth with the locator ring pointing up (see Diagram 1).

FEEDING CALL - Alternate eight short and long caws in a series, "CAW-CAWW, CAW-CAWW". Pause 1 - 2 seconds and continue with the sequence, "CAW-CAWW, CAW-CAWW". Crows issue this call to alert other crows that food is available.

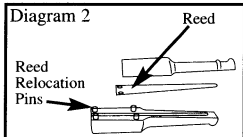

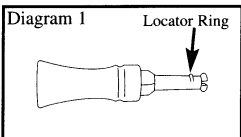

COME HERE CALL - Try this call first to locate a gobbler. Crows use this call to attract other crows. It is often heard in conjunction with the Feeding Call described above. The Come Here Call consists of three long caws evenly spaced, "CAWW-CAWW-CAWW". Wait 1 - 2 seconds and continue with three more long caws, "CAWW-CAWW-CAWW".

SENTRY CALL - Crows use this call to alert other crows to danger. It consists of four caws - 1 long, 2 short, 1 long, "CAWW-CAW-CAW-CAWW".

COME BACK CALL - Often issued when one crow flies by another crow, the Come Back Call consists of four Caws - 2 short and 2 long, "CAW-CAW-CAWW-CAWW".

FIGHTING CALL - If the Come Here Call doesn't work, try the Fighting Call. Crows use this when they are close. It is often used in conjunction with the Come Back Call. It's a very excited call and consists of five caws - 2 long, 2 short, 1 long, "CAWW-CAWW-CAW-CAW-CAWW".

REED RELOCATION SYSTEM: Take the Power Crow™ apart, clean it and reassemble it without wondering if it is tuned properly (see Diagram 2).
