AEO does not respond to "do-not-track" settings in your web browser. Removing or rejecting browser cookies does not necessarily affect third party flash cookies used in connection with our Platforms. To delete or disable flash cookies, please visit the following link

However, please be aware that if you disable or reject cookies, pixels, and similar technology, some features and services on our Platforms may not work properly, because we and our service providers and trusted partners may not be able to recognize you. Please note, even if you choose to restrict or modify your settings, you may still see or receive AEO advertisements via our Platforms and on other sites, but such advertisements will not be personalized based upon your browsing history.
