About The Ritz-Carlton, Kyoto

Built along the banks of the famous Kamogawa river, in an enviable location favored by Japanese noblemen since the 17th century, The Ritz-Carlton, Kyoto offers sublime views of the river, and walking proximity to Gion - where shopping, dining and entertainment await. Often interpreted as a ryokan, this 134-room hotel features an authentic Japanese restaurant Mizuki with its Michelin-starred tempura, teppanyaki and sushi counters, backed by a cascading waterfall. La Locanda provides true Italian fares in an atmospheric ambience, including a 110-years-old repurposed Japanese house- Ebisugawa-tei within its repertoire. Guests can enjoy an array of activities ranging from temple chanting to bicycle tours, zen garden making classes to sake tastings. The Ritz-Carlton Spa offers an extensive menu and features seven intimate treatment rooms, a steam room, dry sauna, a 20-meter swimming pool, and a 24-hour fitness center. Just like a trip to Japan without Kyoto seems incomplete, a stay at The Ritz-Carlton, Kyoto is often on the itinerary of the most affluent visitors to the ancient capital.
