KELMESCOTT HAND BLOCK PRINT FABRIC

Kelmescott, an early twentieth century hand block print was discovered in an English archive and has been reproduced using the original wood blocks, which were first cut and printed in July 1924. The multicolored 50" wide design is composed of 40 separate blocks and requires 80 blocks to complete one full yard of printing.

CUMBRIA

This lively hand block print was first created in 1922 features a stylized "Tree of Life" motif. The pattern is digitally printed, on a grasscloth ground, with pigment-based dyes that fully emphasize the color variation typical of hand block printing. The colors include newer palettes of neutrals, cobalt blues and soft aquamarine, as well as an updated multicolored combination based on the early twentieth century document. Directly interpreted from the original pattern as a fabric, it has been rescaled to make a coordinating grasscloth wallcovering.

PONDICHERRY

Palampores, or "Tree of Life" patterns, have their origins in India, where the exotic designs were hand painted and mordant dyed, and exported to Europe and England for use as elaborate bed hangings and curtains. Now offered as a wallcovering, the blue, green on cream and Turkey Red on Lime colorways remain true to their 90s origins, highlighting the iconic filigree pattern amidst the exotic tree of life motif. The Mineral and Delft colorways were developed in 2015, with the filigree omitted from the fabric design. These four wallcoverings and colorways remain true to the fabric's original design. Intricately detailed flowers and lush foliage accompanied by whimsical birds and playful squirrels add to its timeless appeal. The vertically branching print is perfect for a cozy breakfast nook, kitchen, or powder room.

RIDGE EDGE

Surrounded by a sea of foliage at the edge of a garden, while on a garden tour in Litchfield County, our creative director found the inspiration for this remarkable tapestry, now reimagined as an embroidered wallcovering. The washed finish both softens and lifts the wool for a unique tactile effect and adds dimension. To create a tapestry, multicolored yarns are set in the warp and then the colors are blended at a Belgian mill and woven to a linen ground.

PIGNOLI

Pignoli, also known as pine nuts, are edible seeds harvested from pine trees, specifically the cones of the Italian Umbrella Pine. The Umbrella Pine is often associated with the Italian landscape and is a distinctive and iconic tree to Mediterranean culture as it symbolizes strength and beauty. Reflecting the beauty of this majestic tree, the pattern highlights its unique, sprawling branches and the characteristic pine nut motif. This wallcovering will undoubtedly bring your walls to life, adding an enchanting touch of nature indoors.

ELSIE DE WOLFE

Considered America's first decorator, Elsie de Wolfe started decorating in 1905 and built an impressive career as a trusted tastemaker, surrounding herself with beauty and paving the way for generations to come. Named after this legendary woman, our iconic Scalamandr  fern print celebrates her love of leafy botanicals, featuring various layered ferns and romanticized roots on top of a solid ground. Tasteful whimsy mixed with exotic components result in designs that will be remembered, and are important elements present in Elsie de Wolfe's aesthetic. This Scalamandr  classic, now reimagined as a wallcovering, is also available in an extensive range of lively colorways and is printed on a non-woven paper ground.

VEMBANAD MURAL

Vembanad Lake located in India and is renowned as the largest lake in the state of Kerala. Vembanad Mural is digitally printed on a pearlescent ground and the inspiration was drawn from an original oil painting that showcases the expansive beauty of the lake that sprawls across serene backwaters, creating a tranquil retreat amidst lush greenery. Within this scene, colorful birds are perched on branches, butterflies flutter, and dragonflies dart gracefully, enhancing the natural beauty of the design. Vembanad Mural boasts a grand scale, making it an exquisite choice for a formal dining room, hallway, or grand foyer. Sold as a repeatable 4-panel set.

TROPICAL MURAL

Argentinian artist, Sofia Willemoës, was inspired by the landscapes of South America when designing the Tropical Mural. A snapshot of nature is captured in the design with mountain peaks in the background, highlighted by the stillness of water in the foreground. Tranquility and the serene state of the natural world evoke a sense of wellbeing, with evergreen lily pads floating below tall palms reflected in the crystal blue freshwater lakes. This mural is perfect for being showcased in a formal dining room or grand foyer. This mural is offered as a 13- or 9-panel set.

In the 13-panel option, the first 4 panels feature a large palm tree with two playful Cariblanco monkeys that seamlessly connect to the 9 panels depicting the tropical South American landscape. The first 4 panels do not repeat. The 9-panel set is a repeating mural that can be added onto the 13-panel set or used on its own.
